

Short answers:

1-The student A can connect to Student B's server machine if he know's the IP address and port number. It can be prevented by restricting the user access using various methods such as password protection etc.

4- The ports under 1024 are reserved ports for services such as HTTPS,TCP etc